

Client : MYNIC Berhad
Publication : Computerworld Online - Malaysia
Date : January 2008
Title : Mapping Telephone Numbers

Type : Client News

Page :

Mapping Telephone Numbers

The Malaysian Internet registry and addressing services agency Mynic Berhad is to collaborate with Netherlands-based open source software company AG Projects to research telephone number mapping in the country. Telephone number mapping involves connecting the telephone system to the Internet Protocol (IP) system by developing a protocol that translates telephone numbers into IP addresses.

Knowledge sharing and technology transfer are additional expected outcomes from this partnership. Further details of the project will be announced shortly.